

The Ultimate Secret is Out!

Don't buy any more nutrient until you've read this!

Aside from our never before disclosed analysis (next page), the major secret of the Ultimate nutrients is the totally new Ligand Acquisition and Release bio-process. This technological breakthrough ensures that all the nutrients are sequestered in a form that makes them fully available to the plant on demand. These ligands securely bind all the nutrients, in their correct profile and then release them as the plant requires them. Then, as a bonus, these ligands reacquire the plant's unwanted exudates and store them safely until they are flushed away in a solution change. This keeps your nutrient solution balanced and prevents buildup of unwanted plant exudates.

Where else can you get all the advantages of a technologically advanced one part nutrient AND the most complete profile available in a nutrient? The answer is: nowhere else!

Why waste your time and money experimenting with various nutrients trying to find the exact one which can meet ALL of your plant's nutritional requirements?

The Ultimate series of nutrients from Canadian Xpress has it all. AND, what's more, it is all in one bottle. No more fiddling around with two separate bottles. No more trying to remember if you've put both parts of a two part nutrient in the reservoir. No more double dosing one part and giving your plants none of the other part. No more getting to the end of one bottle and still having some nutrient left in the other.

Only the Ultimate series of nutrients from Canadian Xpress has the total nutrient profile that nature intended plants to have. The world's most advanced nutrient technology brings it to you in one bottle. That's right, we've crammed into one bottle more nutrients than other brands have can get into two bottles.

Take the Ultimate growing challenge and compare the results for yourself.
